HOW A THERA-CLEAN BATH CAN HELP YOUR PET

DEEP NATURAL CLEAN

It doesn't get more all-natural than just water and nothing can clean deeper.

REDUCES ODOR

Most bad odors that come from pets are signs of skin issues deep down within the pores & hair follicles. A Thera-Clean bath now makes it possible to clean out all the irritants that cause bad odor.

REDUCES ITCHING & SCRATCHING

Constant itching & biting can lead to increased problems. With clean & healthier skin, the itching & biting diminishes and so does the risk of secondary infections.

REDUCES SHEDDING

The cleaner the skin and hair, the healthier it is. Healthy hair is stronger hair, in turn, holding onto the skin for that much longer. It's a cycle that all starts with the skin.

ENVIRONMENTALLY FRIENDLY

The future of our environment is extremely important. A Thera-Clean bath uses no chemicals what-so-ever. Only a plant and mineral based enzyme is used to assist the billions of micro bubbles lift the debris up from your pets skin and pores.

REDUCES STRESS & ANXIETY

Daily stress and anxiety for a pet can be harmful. A Thera-Clean bath relaxes both dogs and cats to a level similar to a deep tissue massage as the micro bubbles clean their bodies.

COMPLETELY HYPO-ALLERGENIC

It is impossible to have an allergic reaction to a Thera-Clean bath. Why? Because it's just water.

NO ADDITIONAL SKIN IRRITATION

A Thera-Clean bath does not require direct contact with already sensitive skin (aside from warm bubble infused water). There are no detergents or chemicals involved and no risk of additional reactions.

IMPROVES THERAPEUTIC RESULTS

Whether it's medicated shampoo or a prescription from a veterinarian, the Thera-Clean bath cleans and clears the pores dramatically. It helps prepare your pet to respond more effectively to other protocols and enhances the efficiency of conventional medicines.

SPA DAY?

Your pet doesn't have to have a skin issue to take advantage of a Thera-Clean bath. Your pet may look good but there's only one way to be sure there's no bad bacteria, that causes skin issues, growing deep down inside the skin. So reward your pet with a day at the spa with a nice relaxing Thera-Clean bath all the while assuring yourself their skin is clear of dirt, debris, and bacteria.

GOT DRY SKIN?

Does your little fur baby have dry skin? Ask for Moisture Plus to be added to your Thera-Clean bath. It will give your pet the much needed moisture boost inside their pores replenishing essential oils the skin needs.

THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN SHAMPOO (SURFACTANT) AND MICRO BUBBLES

SHAMPOO (Surfactant)

MICRO BUBBLES

The shampoo (Surfactant) needs to be rubbed on the surface of the skin to make foam, then it takes the dirt off by the surface tension of the bubble. (shown below)

You will be giving a lot of stress to the skin barrier by rubbing (act as a stimulus to the skin).

When the size of the bubble is not reduced to the micro level, it cannot go into the pore. So it is limited to only taking the dirt off of the surface of the skin.

The bubbles wrap up the dirt by surface tension and strip it off from the skin.

The micro bubbles can remove the dirt without rubbing the skin. The micro bubbles which are tinged with negative ions attract the dirt and remove it from the skin without any rubbing. (Picture below)

(Less irritation to the skin)

The microbubbles not only clean on the surface of the skin, they go into the pores and hair follicles and remove the dirt firmly.

The micro-bubbles (negatively ionized) stick to the dirt (positively ionized) and they bring the dirt up to the surface of the water.

HOW DO MICRO BUBBLES CLEAN DEEP INSIDE THE PORES?

The size of a pore is ($30\mu\text{m} = 30/1,000\text{mm}$) and the size of a microbubble is ($20\mu\text{m} = 20/1,000\text{mm}$). The microbubbles are just water and air. Oil and water repel so the microbubbles alone will not remove the sebum crust on its own. The Toji enzyme powder will eat away at the sebum crust breaking it down and making it softer, in turn the broken-down sebum will be removed by the microbubbles. After the sebum is removed, then the micro bubbles travel deep into the pore where it will clean out the pore completely.

What is the Thera-Clean difference?

This is not your typical bath. It is a Thera-Clean therapy bath. A bath that not only deep cleans the hair of your pet but more importantly it deep cleans the skin using nothing but micro bubbles. Dirt accumulated inside the pores is one of the causes of bad odor. To ensure an even deeper clean, we add an all natural plant enzyme that helps loosen the dirt and debris that is stuck on the skin wall that we can't see. No soaps, shampoos or any chemicals of any kind are used in this process. It is completely hypo allergenic. When pets are experiencing allergies or skin sensitivities, the avoidance of soaps, surfactants and chemicals can prove extremely beneficial. A Thera-Clean bath reduces odor, reduces itching, ensures no additional skin irritation and improves results of other skin therapies that your groomer or veterinarian may be recommending.

So, what are these microbubbles?

Simply speaking, micro bubbles are tiny bubbles. To be a micro bubble, they must be less than 1000 micrometers in size. The Thera-Clean system creates millions and millions of bubbles that range from 3-20 micro meters. To put this into perspective, a human hair is 70 micrometers in size and most bacteria is between 3-40 micrometers in size. This is perfect penetrating hair follicles and skin pores while not passing through the epidermis.

How do microbubbles compare to medicated shampoos?

Micro bubbles work on a much deeper level than any soaps or shampoos. They offer a whole new concept of clean skin. This means the micro bubble therapy will enhance the efficiency of any other form of "treatment". Any medication whether administered in the form of a shampoo or orally will function much better due to improved pore and hair follicle condition. This is why the system is being used so extensively in veterinarian hospitals in Japan.

How will my pet respond to the Thera-Clean bath?

Thera-Clean is gentle on your pet and an enjoyable experience for them. Did you know that pets also have a lot of stress just like you and I by living in a variety of environments? The Thera-Clean bath will ease the stress by negative ionized air and a synergy effect of the all natural plant enzyme. Thera-Clean therapy is perfectly safe and can be used daily if necessary.

AT HOME TIPS

Your pet's Thera-Clean Microbubble bath opened its pores and they now need to be protected against whatever is causing the skin problem.

Below are a few tips to guide you towards healthy skin.

- It starts with the food.
Listen to your groomer/veterinarian's advice on suggesting a proper diet for your pet.
- Obtain a barrier between your pet's skin (eg. T-Shirt). We find this type of barrier acts as a bandage so whatever is causing your pet's skin conditions, such as allergens, the barrier protects the pores against those triggers while your pet's skin heals.
Clean bedding
- Your pet's bedding may be one of the triggers that is causing their skin condition. Please make sure that your pet's bedding is cleaned on a regular basis and that your pet is not allergic to whatever you choose to clean its bedding with.
- Find out all allergies your pet may have.
The more you know the easier this will be for everyone - your groomer, your pet(s) and yourself.
 - Your pet may have allergies to outside environmental triggers.
eg. grass, pollens, seasonal air pollutants
Avoid these triggers as much as possible while your regular Thera-Clean Microbubble bath helps improve your pet's skin.
 - Stay on schedule with your groomers/veterinarian's suggested Thera-Clean Microbubble baths. Skipping or ignoring these baths will only prolong your pet's current skin condition.

Important Info

It took your pet's skin weeks, months and even years to break down to the point it is. The healing process won't be immediate, and the first bath won't give magical healing, but if we spend the time your pet needs to heal, we can make magic happen over time.

The process starts with a 3-2-1 regimen. This consists of 3 baths in the first seven days, 2 baths in the second 7 days, and 1-2 baths a week from there depending on the severity of your pet's skin condition.

The first few baths are breaking down the build up clogging the skin and the next few are starting the healing process. Your pet's skin cycle is every 21 days, so these baths flood your pet with healing during that cycle.

While these baths are happening, it's essential we figure out what's causing your pet's skin to break down. It could be a number of reasons like allergies, an autoimmune disorder, or a combination of both.

You can work with your vet to try and figure out the cause. Blood work panels and allergy tests are where we usually start. For an affordable allergy test you can visit Glacier Peaks Holistic.

If it's allergies, it's essential we figure out what they are having such a bad reaction to. Whether it's food, environmental, or something physical, we can't get lasting healing with the baths if we don't find and fix the root cause of the problem.

We are dedicated to your pet's healing and will help you every step along the way!
